The People's Column

All I know is what I read in the Bryan Daily Eagle. In yesterday's issue of your esteemed paper I noticed two large headlines on the front page. The one on the left stated that William Hickman, boy murderer and kidnapper, is to be hanged April 27. The headline on the right said that Colonel Charles Lindbergh, the youthful aviator, had just returned successfully from a long flight from Havana to St. Louis. Lindbergh and Hickman undoubtedly are the two best known young men in the United States. In some respects they have much in common. Both have unusual courage. Both are studious. Both are clean in their personal habits. Both are far above the average mentally. But there is one difference between the two that is of paramount importance—Lindbergh has character while Hickman, perhaps because of heredity and environment, is lacking in character. With his other qualities, Hickman might have made a great man if he had been balanced with a fine character. It was only on the score of character that George Washington, father of our country, and Benedict Arnold, the traitor, were different. They were about equal in abilities, especially as soldiers. While we are developing human attributes, we never must lose sight of the development of character.

In six of the 16 games played, the Porkers have passed the 50-point mark in scoring, and in one of them registered 69 points.

This organization would have a wide field of service and it is believed that a splendid club can be perfected here.

Bryan Speakers Attend Gas Meet Held at Cameron

Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, Sam E. Eberstadt, and Ty Cobb were the speakers last night at mass meeting in Cameron for the purpose of securing of natural gas. The meeting was attended by a large crowd, which included a number of women. F. J. Beckerman, president of the Cameron Commercial Club, presided.

Mr. Eberstadt told of the splendid success the Chamber of Commerce had in Bryan in securing 600 signers for gas. He told of the advantages of gas, and added that the Community Gas Company had given utmost satisfaction. He got his audience in a good humor by telling three or four jokes, mostly of a rural nature. His remarks were loudly applauded.

Mrs. Rountree, in an enthusiastic speech which held the closest attention of her hearers, said that Cameron must go over the top in this undertaking. "I am glad to see so many women here tonight, women can get anything they want, though they might not get it when they want it. You women can put over the drive for Cameron. There is no such word as 'can't', and I am sure that Cameron will not fail in this project," she said.

Ty Cobb told of how gas had stimulated business in Bryan, and stated that it is imperative that Cameron secure natural gas to keep pace with the other little cities in the State. "The people of Cameron are entitled to the conveniences, advantages, and necessities of life just as much as are the people of Dallas, Houston, and Temple," he said.

After the Bryan speakers finished, Hon. T. S. Henderson, R. L. Batte, Mayor W. W. Chambers, Judge M. G. Cox and others volunteered their services to work on committee and do anything else necessary to secure Cameron's quota of 500 signers. Many of Cameron's leading property owners had been holding back on the gas project, but all of them volunteered to join in the movement.

Miss Bandelin's report showed that every school in the county had been visited except four, and that she plans to visit them this week. Her annual report proves that Brazos county, through her efficiency is making rapid strides in the promotion of health work among the children of the county.

Judge Ferguson reported that the funds for the negro nurse will be raised, and that this will be the first county in the State of Texas to have a negro health nurse.

Wet President Would Nullify Volstead Law

(By Associated Press). DALLAS, Feb. 15.—A wet president of the United States could sound the doom of prohibition by making wet appointments which would entirely nullify the Volstead Act, Mrs. Nellie G. Burger, of Springfield, Mo., assistant recording secretary of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union said in an address here today before the national district conference of the W. C. T. U.

"Election of a wet president would prove that there has been a complete revival of sentiment in this nation, and would place the whole machinery of the United States government in the hands of the wets as the president has the greatest appointive power of any chief executive in the world," Mrs. Burger declared.

"Wets have said that it is not necessary to secure 36 states in order to upset the eighteenth amendment, but that they need only one more member on the United States Supreme Court. Four of the present members are said to be 'liberals' now. A wet president could appoint the need-wet justice."

"He also could appoint wet circuit district judges, and law enforcement would lose its appeal through acquittal in local courts of dry law violations."

"He could appoint attorney general and his assistants, as well as all district attorneys who prosecute and all district marshals who arrest. A wet Secretary of the Treasury could be placed at the head of the law enforcement machinery. A man who had been an enemy to prohibition could be named as prohibition director. The coast guard could be filled with wet officers who would have no desire to prevent smuggling. And the Secretary of State could be a wet who would be slow to appoint ministers and consults to other lands who negotiate or fail to negotiate agreement for the prevention of liquor smuggling."

A. & M. Fourth In Agricultural Students In '28

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 15.—The A. and M. College of Texas ranks fourth in total enrollment of agricultural students and third in enrollment of agricultural freshman students for the first term of the 1927-28 college year out of a list of 33 land grant colleges in the United States, according to tabulation made by Dean R. L. Watts of the Pennsylvania State College and cited by Dean E. J. Kyle of A. and M.

Dean Kyle has pointed out that about 40 new freshmen students in agriculture have been registered for the second term just getting under way. This additional enrollment should make A. and M. College of Texas easily second in the enrollment of freshman agricultural students this year, in the opinion of Dean Kyle, and probably third in total enrollment of agricultural students if the record should be made at this time.

"At present, it is estimated that A. and M. College of Texas has as many freshmen enrolled in agriculture as the land grant institutions in California, Minnesota, Missouri and Wisconsin combined," Dean Kyle said.

It is not as hard to strike oil as it is to get an oil man to testify in court.

Christian people should not frown upon any organization or individual that would criticize the Bible. An investigation never hurts. If it is good, the investigation can only strengthen it. If it is bad, it should be changed. Of all things that can stand investigation, the Bible stands at the forefront.

Washington's birthday, February 22, which also is tree planting time, will be observed by the school children of Texas in this manner. If Washington's wish could be expressed, he doubtless would say that he had rather have his memory perpetuated by trees, which would afford comfort to the weary and add to the beauty of the world, than by any other method.

There are many more candidates than usual for public office in Brazos county. A large number of candidates and an interest in politics is a wholesome sign. With several candidates running for offices, the people usually can be depended upon to choose the best one. The public is not easily fooled in this day of enlightenment, while the character of the people is usually reflected by the character of the office-holders. The efficiency of the administration of public affairs is commensurate with the interest the public takes in politics. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

A generation of farmers is in the making in the Southwest. Young men from the farm, thousands of them, are making a close study not only of agriculture, horticulture, livestock, and the various divisions of those industries, but are receiving practical training at A. and M. College, and in the several junior colleges of the state. In addition to these advantages, the boys and girls are receiving instructions in vocational classes in the public schools and through club work conducted by county agents and home demonstration agents.

It takes everlasting team work, as Kipling said, to build a city, or a rural community—or even to cause an individual family to do its best. Anybody on earth can stand off and criticize a community effort to build and broaden and add worth while things for the common good of all—but you can set it down as a certainty that the fellow who is trying his dead level best to cooperate, to work with the Chamber of Commerce, with the local committee, with the bunch who are trying to help things along, is going to be the very last one to criticize and find fault.

INTELLECTUAL FEAST

One of the chief advantages of attending a college or university is the opportunity to associate with and to listen to intellectual and talented giants of the nation. The people of Bryan, as well as the students of A. and M. College, will have such an opportunity Thursday night when Will Durant, the thinker, the philosopher, and the author, will give a lecture at A. and M. College. Many of us are lazy mentally; many more of us are lazy physically; many more of us are lazy mentally. Dr. Durant's lecture may exercise our mental powers to some extent, but this, we believe, will be stimulating and painless. In this age of appeal to the prejudices it will be refreshing to partake of an intellectual feast.

GLORY ENOUGH FOR ALL

Five hundred solicitors have started raising funds from all parts of Texas for the entertainment of the democratic convention in Houston. A sum of $350,000, it is estimated, is needed for this purpose. Although some may point out that Houston will receive the credit for entertaining the Democrats, the people of Texas should be glad of an opportunity to assist our sister city in this undertaking. All Texas will be the beneficiary of the convention. The eyes of the Nation are now focused upon Texas, not exclusively upon Houston. It is already announced that one of the leading candidates for the presidential nomination will maintain headquarters in Galveston. All of the States will share in the glory. This is Texas' golden opportunity to make a profound impression upon the nation. No expense must be spared to accomplish this purpose, and it should be considered a privilege to have a part in one of the most notable events that will have taken place in Texas since the Battle of San Jacinto.

A farm relief measure, known as the "Ketcham bill," has been offered in Congress. This sounds like a good bill for the farmers. They have been pitching long enough.

More than three-fourths of the men who have been electrocuted at Huntsville in the past few years have been Mexicans and negroes. We wonder if this reports indicates justice?

The State Highway Department is striving to build roads that will benefit the largest number of citizens. Efficiency is being substituted for politics in our road system.

The fact that Bryan is growing more steadily and more substantially than it ever has before should be an incentive rather than as a deterrent to further efforts to build up the town. With every citizen pulling together we shall have a city of 15,000 people here before the next decennial census.

The Panhandle Plains Historical Society is making an effort to perpetuate the old-time cattle brands of West Texas. Memory of the early cowboy days should be perpetuated in every way. There is much of the daring and romantic about them that can find best expression only in music and literature.

The City Park Board has definite plans for the development and beautification of the park given the city by Mayor Tyler Haswell. This committee has been on the job in improving the park, and within a few years it should be one of the most inviting in Central Texas. Each summer the park will become a more popular haven of rest.

Cities that own their public utilities are going to meet in Georgetown soon to form an organization. This is a good move, even though it is a little late in arriving. Most of the cities have lost control of their public utilities a long time ago. A city that owns its utilities is indeed fortunate. The public utilities is the key to low taxes or many city improvements or perhaps both, and this goose which lays the golden egg should be carefully safeguarded.

The subject for debate in the Intercollegiate League this year is "Resolved, That the McNary-Haugen Bill Should Be Adopted." The question is slightly obsolete now, although it would have been a fine subject two years ago. In Bryan high school practice debates the negative has been winning every time. It will be recalled that Coolidge vetoed the bill, which probably is partly the reason why the negative is considered the harder side of the question. For the purpose of debate, the affirmative side always has a tremendous advantage for two reasons: The people always are in favor of a change, and again the affirmative has the last appeal to the audience. Study of this subject should prove quite helpful to the students.

The State has just electrocuted George Russell, who admitted that he killed thirteen persons, all women and children. Russell was tried in a Texas court and convicted on only one charge of murder. It is unreasonable to believe that Russell was sane, although the courts failed to find him insane. Our system of jurisprudence must undergo some radical changes. In many of our horrible crimes the defendants are pleading "insanity." The court brings in a number of alienists, who are about equally divided in their conclusions as to the sanity of the defendant. We are permitting the guilt or innocence of our alleged criminals to depend upon the testimony of these alienists. After their testimony is given, the jury cannot then determine their case. A new way must be found to determine insanity, for the State has no right to take the life of a criminal whose mind is diseased. A criminal of this type should be treated instead of electrocuted.

WE HOPE NEVER TO QUIT BUILDING

Many men have said this: "Adams is a hard worker; he is doing all he can to make things better, we think he is honest in his efforts, but, if he wants a better place to live in, why didn't he go there instead of coming to Hempstead?" Thanks for the compliment; now for the explanation: Adams is not in that better place for the same reason you are not driving a Packard instead of a flyover—he bought the best horse his money would pay for. Certainly he would have bought the Houston Post-Dispatch and have moved into Sterling's $120,000 home, or one like it; if he could have borrowed the money even—might have gone to Branham (doubt that a little), or Bryan! I did what every red-blooded man does; bought the best job he could, and then set about making it a better one—can you beat it? And we enjoy it immensely. We could make more money if we were willing to do what some of you are doing; but we had rather run a "country" newspaper than do anything else we are capable of doing. We might swap places with Sterling or some of those old boys—that if you popped the proposal sudden-like and didn't have time to think about it much. But, Alfonso, we are having the time of our life.—Hempstead News.

A crowd filled the district court room to hear Dr. Albert Venting Sunday night, when he preached for the First Baptist congregation in this city at 7:30 o'clock. Special music by the choir added another interest to the evening service, which was one of spiritual uplift and benefit to all present.

Day, pastor of the church, in introducing Dr. Venting spoke of his great work in the Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth, of his success as a leader in the teaching force at the seminary, his success as a Christian worker and his power as a preacher of the gospel of Christ. Rev. Day also recalled a former visit of Dr. Venting to Bryan when he accepted the invitation of the First Baptist church to take part in the service of ordaining a large number of deacons several months ago, and expressed the hope that he would again come when the congregation moves into its new church home fast nearing completion at this time.

Solemnity Of The Oaths Of Grand Jurors And Atrocity Of Perjury Are Emphasized By Judge Davis

"One of the chief reasons for the miscarriage of the law is a lack of regard for the solemnity of the oaths that men take as jurors and the improper attitude toward the seriousness of perjury," stated District Judge W. C. Davis of Bryan in his charge to the grand jury today in his plea to uphold the majesty of the law, which he described as constituting the foundation of society. "When many men are called upon to testify as witnesses in a case they think only of serving the purpose of acquitting or convicting the criminal, without regard to the actual facts in the case. They ignore the fact that they are under oath to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, but through chicanery and deception they hope to thwart the administration of justice in our courts," he stated. He stressed the responsibility of grand jurors as they were called

Bryan Delphian Chapter Meets

The Bryan Delphian chapter met at 3 p. m. in the club rooms with the president, Mrs. J. S. Mogford, presiding. After reading the minutes and a short business session a very interesting lesson on "Later Romanticists," was led by Mrs. Sam Cavitt.

Early in the nineteenth century two movements made their appearance in German music, (1) Romantic opera and (2) German art song, with the former we connect the name of Weber and with the latter that of Schubert; these two composers began their work when Beethoven was at his height. The opera and song are connected with the romantic movement then prevalent in German art and literature. The first step in this direction was made about 1800 by a group of one hundred men who banded together to create a new department in literature. This group of poets came to be known as the "Romantic School" and later on the name was applied to a school artists, and last of all, to musicians, romanticists in poetry and painting have been almost entirely superseded by realists, but the romantic school of music still exists. It is difficult to define the romantic movement because it embraced so many different things. It was the result of an attempt on the part of German writers and critics to break away from the classic style and create one that should be distinctly national. Interesting talks on the following subjects were made:

Mendelssohn's Life, Mrs. S. E. Eberstadt; Composition for Piano, Mrs. G. L. Crawford; Life of Chopin, Mrs. David Reid; Chopin's Compositions, Mrs. Willie Rogers; Program Music, Mrs. W. B. Cline; Berlioz, Mrs. W. M. Owens; Liszt, Mrs. W. S. Howell. The club then adjourned until the next meeting.

A. & M. Mothers' Club Has A Good Meeting Friday

The Brazos County A. and M. Mothers' Club held an interesting meeting, yesterday, in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. with Mrs. F. L. Thomas in the chair. Many plans of work were discussed.

The mothers clubs over the state are fostering a movement along the line of placing a grand organ in Guion Hall. The cooperation of the Brazos County Mothers was solicited. As we are ever ready to lend a helping hand toward all good things for the uplift of A. and M. College our secretary was instructed to write these mothers that they would have our heartiest cooperation. We give credit for this spark of ambition to the Fort Worth mothers.

We are beginning to get more in touch with other A. and M. Mothers Clubs and we feel that much good will come from our united efforts.

This week's work has been to try to cheer the dear mothers whose sons have been very ill in the hospital. They have been brought in touch with out College organization through the friendly hand-clasp and expression of sympathy; the sending of flowers, and a willingness to help them in their ministrations of kindness and love.

A shelf of good clean books is to be given to the A. and M. Hospital. The mothers are donating this gift but anyone may contribute if they so desire. We planned to be accorded those who are to come for Mother's Day the second Sunday in May. The final decision has not been reached but our social committee is gifted and competent and we are looking forward to a good time with them.

Mrs. Walter Wiprecht and Mrs. T. A. Adams were appointed by the chair to meet with the P.-T. A. Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the high school auditorium. The Mothers Clubs are federated with the P.-T. A. and are expected to send one representative for every ten members to the county council meetings.

Mrs. Giesecke joined our organization as a contributing member.—Contributed.

Mrs. Siecke Is Speaker At West Side P.-T. Ass'n.

Good attendance and interest marked the regular meeting of the West Side Parent-Teacher Association, held at the school house on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The usual business session was suspended so that the Ninth District president, Mrs. E. O. Siecke, might speak to the Association before meeting another engagement with the East Side Association.

In her address, Mrs. Siecke explained the P.-T. A. organization, and the correlation of the national, state, district and local units, giving uniformity to activities and interests over the entire United States and several foreign countries. The county council, said Mrs. Siecke, forms the logical basis of local correlation.

Founder's Day and its significance was also discussed by Mrs. Siecke, also plans as far as they have been definitely formulated, for entertaining the Ninth District Convention in Bryan and College Station April 11, 12, and 13.

At the close of Mrs. Siecke's talk, which was much enjoyed by all who heard her, routine business matters were considered, including the resignation of Mrs. A. S. Ware as secretary. Mrs. W. P. Moore was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy created by Mrs. Ware's resignation.

The treasurer's report showed about $49.00 in the treasury with all outstanding bills paid.

Mrs. D. C. McIntosh was present to lay before the association the plans for organizing a community chorus of several hundred voices to present special choral numbers for the entertainment of those who come here to attend the Ninth District convention in April. All who would be interested in joining this chorus are requested to meet Mrs. McIntosh at the basement of the Christian church on Monday nights. There will be a rehearsal each Monday night from now until the convention date.

At the close of the business session, a brief program of entertainment was given by Lola Barron, Phyllis Lee Godwin and Alfred Schulman.

College of Texas, of the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Lily Bess Kyle, to Thomas Harrison Baker, Jr., of Memphis, Tenn., the date has been fixed for a social event of wide interest not only at the college and in Bryan but throughout the state as well. Mrs. H. H. Newton led a beautiful devotional service at the beginning of the hour, after which a social program was given. A Valentine contest which required the actual making of a valentine for each class member present, resulted in much artistic work. Miss Nellie Eaves making the most attractive valentine, which honor gave to her a very "silly" prize. Other contests, with music and conversant on made up the hour. ## Long Troubled by Constipation

"Black-Draught has been a family medicine with us for fifteen years," says Mr. F. M. Huntley, of Neosho, Mo. "I read about it first in the Ladies' Birthday Almanac and what I read there sounded so convincing I made up my mind to try Black-Draught, as I had been troubled with constipation for a long time. "I found Black-Draught to be the ideal medicine for this trouble. It gave me quick relief. Frequently I had had headaches and pains, due to toxic poison. By taking a course of Black-Draught I gave my system a thorough cleansing, and I have had little or no trouble since then. "Now, if I am becoming constipated, I take several small doses of Black-Draught, and am very soon feeling fine."

Costs only 1 cent a dose.

C. L. Eden For Tax Assessor

C. L. Eden of Bryan, well-known Brazos county business man who has lived in this county for 48 years, authorizes the Eagle to announce his candidacy for tax assessor of Brazos county.

Mr. Eden has seen Bryan grow from an unkempt village to one of the most attractive and promising little cities in the State. During all of these years he has done his part for the development of Brazos county and of Bryan.

This is the first time he ever announced for public office, and in doing so this time he is entering the race strictly on his own initiative.

He is a member of the Methodist church and of the Knights of Pythias and Dokey lodges.

"I feel that my intimate knowledge of the county and my wide acquaintanceship, acquired through 25 years of public life in this county as a merchant and gunner, give me a keen insight into the duties of the important office of tax assessor. I ask no quarter, but seek the office strictly on my merits, pledging to you that I will discharge the duties of the office courteously, faithfully and loyally," said Mr. Eden.

The Seventeenth Amendment to the Constitution provides for the election of Senators by direct vote.

Greenville Experiment Station To Receive Only $25,000 Budget

Fourth Payment Is Received By Public Schools

County Superintendent D. J. McDonald is in receipt of a letter from State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs, in which he states that the fourth payment on the per capita apportionment of public schools has been placed in the depositories. This makes a total of $5, and leaves $10 yet to be paid. Marrs says that the full amount will be paid before the end of the year.

Following is the text of his letter:

"I am sending to all depositories this week two dollars, as the fourth payment on the per capita apportionment for the public schools. This makes a total of five dollars and leaves ten dollars yet to be paid. It is probable that another payment of two dollars may be made before March first. I can assure you that the entire apportionment of fifteen dollars will be paid before the end of the school year."

"The amendment which has been made to the text-book law permits the Commission by the gradual introduction of new books over a period of three years to minimize the cost of any necessary changes and to continue the use of old books until they have been worn out. Good business demands the full use of the text-books, and I wish to express my appreciation to the school officials for the hearty cooperation given to the department in the administration of the free text-book law. With the continuance of this cooperation, you may rest assured that the per capita apportionment of $15 for the year 1928-1929 will be made."

School Students To Make Posters

Miss Lelia Griffin of the art department of the grammar grades of East Side School, in cooperation with the Dramatic and Little Theater Clubs, is arranging to have her different classes make posters advertising the three one-act plays to be given in March. This work includes the entire fifth, sixth, and seventh grades. A free ticket to all three plays is being offered as an incentive to the pupil in each class making the best poster. Already the pupils are bringing in numerous well-selected illustrations to be used in the arrangement of them.

It is a very fine thing when the different departments of the school cooperate with one another for the benefit of the school as well as for that particular division of the work.

Prior to this, Miss Griffin's classes have been doing some excellent work with humane posters.

Annual Meeting Of The Bryan Cemetery Association Is To Be Held February 23 At The Library

A full attendance of the members of the board of directors of the Bryan Cemetery Association met this morning at 10 o'clock for the regular session of the month. This being the planting season of the year interest centered around the report of the committee in charge of the campaign for the beautification of the cemetery grounds, Mrs. R. Q. Astin, the chairman giving a most encouraging outline of work done during the past two weeks.

Eight live oak trees have been planted in the new portion of the cemetery grounds, and 636 plants have been set in the front hedge of privet, to fill the spaces caused by dead shrubs and make that line of green straight and attractive with the coming Spring.

The triangle, near the front entrance to the grounds, which was planted in zenias last year made such a brilliant and attractive spot, adorning the grounds and also being admired by all who passed along the adjacent highway, will be bordered this year with a privet hedge. This hedge will require 300 additional plants and these have been ordered by the committee and are expected to arrive in a few days.

WAKE UP THOMAS

Turn backward, turn backward,
O time in your flight
Call up Thomas Jefferson
Just for tonight.

Thomas, come back from
That far distant shore,
Tell us again of the Good days of yore.

Of the old creaking wagon—
The old wooden plow,
When our very best team
Was the sons of a cow.

Of the old brass candle
Which stood on the board,
The old cedar bucket
With its long-handle gourd.

Of the old family chase
And its fine team of four
With its proud negro slave
In his livery galore.

Each boy of the family—
Each girl had their slave,
The custom now vanished—
Long sleeps in his grave.

When mother did sewing
With needle and thread,
But now she is using
Machinery instead.

There has been much writing
Since the last lines you wrote,
A new crew is running
The nation's old boat.

The harbor once shallow
Has now been made deep
The boat is much larger
Since you fell asleep.

Some men who are steering
The old ship of state,
Still claim they are running
With you for a mate.

We faint now would ask you
To give us your views,
There are many men claiming
To stand in your shoes.

They boast of protection
And love for all men,
There may be deception
Just under the skin.

Our problems are greater—
Much larger our crew,
Resources much better—
We'll weather it through.

The ship which you manned
In days long ago,
Has never yet stranded
She is making the shore.

And while we have grafters—
Bad men in the crew,
We have many a pillar
Just as honest as you.

Problems Confronting Farm Electrification Discussed In Bulletin For U. S. Farmers

DALLAS, Feb. 15.—(By Associated Press) Problems confronting farm electrification throughout the country are reported in a bulletin just issued by the National Committee on Agriculture.

The committee is composed of a number of national organizations and its report summarizes the results of efforts that have been made to determine in what ways electricity may assist the farmer in more efficient methods and to improve living standards in the rural home.

A rural electrification survey is at present being conducted in Texas under direction of Texas A. and M. College supported by a number of electrical power companies. Results of this survey soon are to be published and 25 experimental farms are to be established to determine how electricity is to be brought to the farms of Texas.

According to the Texas Public Service Information Bureau of Dallas, through which the national committee released its report, this committee is a cooperative organization started in 1923 to give purpose and direction to a national movement looking toward the solution of the problem of getting electric light and power service to the farms of the United States. The present membership of the committee includes representatives of the following: American Bureau of Farm Equipment Manufacturers, National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers, National Electric Light Association, National Grange, National Electrical Manufacturers Association.

I take this means of announcing my candidacy for commissioner of Precinct No. 2 of Brazos county, Texas.

In announcing for the office of commissioner, I believe that my experience has fitted me to be of valuable service in that capacity, if elected. For several years I have been connected from time to time with the highway department, which has given me practical experience in building roads, which in my opinion, is one of the most important duties of the county commissioner.

I earnestly solicit the votes and influence of the voters of this precinct, and pledge you that if I am successful in my race for the office, I will do my best.

VALENTINES--

room was artistically decorated in commemoration of Valentine Day. The chief item of business at Tuesday's meeting was the appointment of a committee to take whatever action is necessary to secure the 1929 State Lions Club convention for Bryan. The following committee was named: J. Bryan Miller, chairman; Jess Hensarling, Rip Erskine, Henry Locke, W. S. Howell, A. S. Ware, H. L. Durham, Dr. F. D. Fuller, S. E. Eberstadt.

Henry Locke, director of the recent minstrel show, was presented with a gift by Rip Erskine on behalf of the club as a token of appreciation for his splendid efforts. In his speech of acceptance, Mr. Locke stated that he had received the full co-operation of all. The finance committee report on the show was made by W. S. Howell, and the advertising committee's report was made by Dr. F. D. Fuller. U. M. Brock reported on the enthusiastic way in which the Dollar Day plan was received.

The address of the day was given by Engineer J. E. Blair and the music was furnished by R. A. Buck, a student of A. and M. College. The program was in charge of R. M. Sherwood.

An invitation from Colonel C. J. Nelson, inviting the Lions to be special guests at the military review at A. and M. College March 6 was read and accepted by the organization. The following committee was named to make plans for the club to witness the review: Buster Halsell, chairman; Norman Dansby and Edgar Bullock.

Engineer Blair modestly stated that the credit for the condition of the roads in this section belonged to the State Highway Commission, whose policy was to give a fair deal to the entire State. There are 12 counties in this division, whose headquarters are in Bryan. In this division are 1,000 miles of designated highways, and 250 men are employed in the maintenance division.

"Politics do not cut any figure with the present Highway Commission. No man is protected by political influence. He must deliver the goods or get out. We are permitted to hire and fire whoever we please, without any restrictions. Good service is our only standard. And the money that is spent brings full measure of value in return," stated Mr. Blair.

Few entertainers have been received with as much enthusiasm as was Cadet Buck of A. and M., who played a French harp.

The secretary's reading of the minutes was given by R. V. Armstrong.

Visitors included T. C. Richardson of Dallas, field editor of Farm and Ranch, and F. R. Brison of A. and M. College.

The following were present: T. C. Richardson, John E. Blair, Thos. G. Watts, D. B. Gregory, F. B. Patronella, C. E. Griesser, M. F. Vitopil, C. M. Halsell, Norman Dansby, Bill Wimberly, Henry Locke, Harry L. Durham, R. D. Sanders, R. C. Franks, Tom G. Suber, U. M. Brock, W. E. Neelley, John Maniatis, George W. Griner, R. A. Buck, M. Place the remaining portion on a molding board which has been sprinkled with powdered sugar. Roll with the palms of the hands into a long cylinder about 1-2 inch in diameter. Roll in finely chopped nuts. Let stand in a cold place until firm. Cut into circles 1-2 inch thick.

Reminiscent of a later period—the paper lace valentine era of Goddard's Ladybook and Currier and Ives prints—is the old-fashioned valentine salad given below:

Old Fashioned Valentine Salad
Use chicory or curly endive to represent the white paper lace of an old-fashioned valentine. On this place a tomato jelly heart. Run mayonnaise through a pastry tube in the shape of an arrow that has pierced it. Cut tiny hearts from pimento with small heart-shaped vegetable cutter. Arrange these in an irregular circle surrounding the large heart mold. The tomato jelly can be made as follows: Three cups stewed tomatoes (fresh or canned), 1 slice onion, 1 stalk celery, 1 bay leaf, 1 clove, 1-4 green pepper pod, salt, 2 tablespoons gelatine, 1-2 cup cold water, lettuce.

Cook tomatoes with seasonings. Soak gelatine in cold water, add to boiling tomatoes, strain and pour into heart shaped molds. Chill and serve as described above.

Use of Bible Is Prohibited Here

(By Associated Press). LANSING, Mich., Feb. 11.—Use of the Bible in public schools has been prohibited by Attorney General W. W. Potter in an opinion which necessitates discontinuance of religious courses in the various normal schools and at Michigan State College.

Potter explained that the Constitution clearly prevents use of any religious textbooks. Although the State college and the normals are not "public schools" under the law, authorities explained the constitutional provision affecting the lower institutions would have like effect on them.

The University of Michigan is not concerned with the ruling. Religious training there is conducted in a separate building not maintained by the State. The normals and the State college, however, conduct courses designed "to present general principles of Christianity."

Boys' And Girls' Club Department

Club Notes and Farm News By County Agent C. L. Beason and Lucy A. Givens, Home Demonstration Agent

Not to Pass Eggs

Club members desiring to have poultry as their projects should remember that the Chamber of Commerce will not distribute eggs this year as was done last year. If you need hatching eggs we shall be glad to help locate them for you and at the best prices possible.

Buying Much Feed

Notwithstanding our big feed crop last year, there is "worlds" of feed yet being sold in Bryan. Let's take out more of this "slack" in our feed crops this year.

Sounds Like Aristotle

Sell hogs when they are high and buy when they are cheap. Now is the time to get started in the hog business.

Use Good Seed

A number of Brazos county farmers are using certified potato seed this year, but to be sure of the results a check should be made to determine just how much it pays to use good seed. Unless this is done, it will all be guess work.

Guard Against Insects

We can not be too careful in guarding against impure planting seed and the danger of spreading insect pests. Already the pink boll worm is found in a large area in Texas, and the careless buying of cotton seed on the part of our farmers might cost Brazos county a million dollars, destroying for a time our cotton industry.

Home Raised Hogs

Feed one pound of protein supplement to each hog every day, that will balance up your ration. In this division are 1,000 miles of designated highways, and 250 men are employed in the maintenance division.

Results of Terracing

Walter Armstrong of Tabor is one farmer whose land is increasing in soil fertility as a result of terracing. Yours will do the same if properly terraced and terraces built kept up.

The Eight M's in Agriculture

"More Milk, More Meat, More Manure, More Money."—Dr. R. A. Ramsey in Tyler Journal.

Use Good Potato Seed

Now that the time is near for bedding out sweet potatoes, let us take care that only good seed, free from disease, are used. It was observed at the Howell Lumber Company Fair last fall that a number of Brazos county farmers have black rot on their potatoes, and the report now comes that the potato weevil is found in the Wellborn community. Let us use every precaution possible; otherwise our potato crop is doomed. See to it that no seed potatoes come from weevil infested territory, and see to it that potatoes are dipped before bedding out and then slips dipped before planting.

Real Insurance

Frank Lero says the wonderful change made after terracing done on the Canatello farm, on the Mumford road, convinced him of the importance of terracing. Our local townsman, George A. Adams, was responsible for influencing Mr. Canatello to have his farm terraced. Mr. Lero is now having his entire farm terraced, turn rows changed, and row systems made to correspond. Yes he will have short rows but that will be better than a long row with no soil.

Too Much Sticking

"Stick to the black land in dry weather and it will stick to you in wet weather," says Joe Merka of Rye. Mr. Merka is trying to save his fine black soil by means of terraces.

Another Show

Don't fail to see the Fat Stock Show at A. and M. College on Washington's birthday, 2 to 4 p. m. No better livestock can be found in Texas than is produced at our own A. and M. College.

Use New Method

Several farmers will try out the Williamson method of corn raising this year, bedding out the land in six foot rows, using a broad flat list in water furrow to plant on. This will prevent "sand packing" in event of heavy rains. Ask your county agent for further particulars.

Lucy A. Givens, Home Demonstration Agent

Its garden time again. Let's do our best to make the garden program a big success this year. Brazos County club women made good garden records last year. The county garden contest was a success and announcement of winners of the state contest has just been received by the home demonstration agent. The Reliance Club which scored highest in the county contest won a district prize too. Mrs. Grace Horton of Reliance won second place in district six as nitrate demonstrator and received a prize of $7.50. Her club was awarded a prize of the same amount for having second best nitrate demonstration in the district. Many club women have already entered the garden contest for this year and are at work on what they hope will be the best gardens yet. They are determined not only to win a state prize but to raise a garden adequate for family use. They are aware of the fact that a continuous supply of home grown fresh vegetables and canned vegetables for winter not only cut the cost of living but are essential health factors. It should be kept in mind that in the live-at-home program gardening and canning play an important part and are essential to its success.

ent due to the muddy condition of the roads. Miss Givens, our county demonstration agent, lectured on the garden contest. Tabor received only second prize offered by the Chamber of Commerce in 1927. The fact that few club members turned in reports was probably the reason we did not win first prize. If all the members co-operate this year we have a splendid chance to win a state prize, also, this year. Since everyone has a garden, anyway, why can't we do a little more and have a prize winning garden or at least be able to help others have a prize winning garden show for our community.

Mike Thomas To Talk At Masonic Program Feb. 22

The program committee of the Washington Birthday Celebration which is scheduled to take place February 22, at Sbia Hall, College Station, under the auspices of Brazos Union Lodge No. 129 A. F. and A. M., announces that Past Master Mike Thomas of Dallas, has consented to appear on the program on this occasion. He is a prominent figure in Texas Masonry and will undoubtedly prove a treat to those so fortunate as to be able to attend.

Dr. T. O. Walton has consented to deliver the welcome address, and other prominent Masons have been invited to appear on the program. All have not been heard from to date, but an entertaining and instructive program worthy of the occasion is assured by the program committee.

Letters were sent to the Masonic lodges in this district by Dr. C. A. Searcy, W. M., and G. A. Long, general committee chairman, inviting representatives from lodges in the Twenty-Ninth district to be present, while the officers from other surrounding lodges have been invited to come.

Owing to limited seating capacity it has been decided to invite only Masons and DeMolays on this occasion, and in order to know how many plates to prepare the ticket sale will close February 15. W. K. Gibbs is chairman of the Bryan ticket committee, while O. Henderson is chairman of the College ticket committee. They have appointed lieutenants to work with them. An interesting program is being prepared and if you desire to attend it would be wise to get in touch with the ticket salesmen as they are not going to insist on the sale of a ticket and it is well to remember that after the 15th it will be too late to secure a ticket.

Bryan Girls In Auto Pageant At A. & M. Friday

(Special to "The Eagle")

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 11.—The latest models of several well-known makes of cars, farm machines and farm home equipment were exhibited at an automobile and machinery show presented under the auspices of the Agricultural Engineering Society of the A. and M. Included in the exhibit, which was of an educational nature were 32 1928 models of fifteen makes of motor cars. These models were driven in the opening parade by young women from Bryan and College Station, escorted by A. and M. cadets. Following the parade, models were placed on display with factory representatives and officials present to explain mechanical details.

The machinery exhibit included the latest improved tractors, binders, threshers, two and three row implements, trucks, engines and farm home conveniences. Many of the machines demonstrated were in actual operation.

Music for the show was furnished by the A. and M. College band of 10 pieces and novelty stunts by members of the Agricultural Engineering Society furnished additional entertainment. More than 2,400 people were in attendance at the show.

More Than 100 Members Of East Side Parent-Teachers' Ass'n. Enjoys Founder's Day Meeting

Thursday, Feb. 9, was an outstanding day for the Bryan East Side Parent-Teacher Association, and will be remembered through the years as a climax of successes attained by that organization during the term of 1927-28.

It was National Founder's Day, the birthday celebration being observed in a most impressive manner, and participated in by more than 100 members of the East Side P. T. A. with many visitors also present.

Following a business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. H. B. McDowell, in the high school auditorium, with reports of all officers and committees proving the functioning of every part of the organization's work, the program of the day was taken up.

Mrs. W. B. Cline was leader, and prefaced the program with appropriate words concerning the National Congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers Associations. She told of the occasion marking the 31st year of the organization and paid loving tribute to the founders, Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe A. Hearst. "The lives of these two women whose wisdom of child welfare now glows in the hearts of more than one million members of the organization they founded, will live on forever to bless the world. For Parent-Teacher work is now a recognized influence in the educational, religious and social welfare of every child, and of untold value, in the protecting, enriching and beautifying of child life the world over."

The program included an inspirational talk by Superintendent H. L. Durham which was appreciated by the parents of the school children present. It is to be regretted that every father, and mother in Bryan was not present to head the vital message. Dr. Durham brought on this occasion.

Mrs. O. E. Sieck, president of the Ninth District P. T. A., was also a speaker on the program, and gave a brief but impressive outline of the plans to be worked out by the Ninth District which means that every Association in every county in the district must be on the job.

Mrs. R. O. Allen Elected Vice-President Of Woman's Club; Mrs. J. L. Brock Is Program Leader

Mrs. E. H. Astin, president of the Bryan Woman's Club, called the weekly meeting to order, promptly at 3 p. m. Wednesday. Twenty-seven members answered roll call, after which minutes of the previous meeting were read. Mrs. Brown was given showing a balance in the club treasury at this time $210. Both these reports were approved.

Mrs. J. L. Lush, club critic, gave some splendid suggestions and stressed the fact that, many errors in pronunciation had been noticed, and emphasized especially, pure English to be used at all times.

When Mrs. Astin called for committee reports, Mrs. Lush, chairman of the committee on American Homes, asked that Mrs. P. G. Gunter, a member of the committee be given five minutes to make report for the committee. Mrs. Gunter gave a comprehensive and practical talk, with many helpful suggestions and ideas.

Mrs. P. M. Rayson, chairman of a committee recently appointed by the president to consider the for-

A poem read by Miss Malcolm McInnis was another enjoyable feature of the very enjoyable hour.

Following the program the birthday celebration was held in the high school cafeteria. The birthday cake of three tiers held place of honor in the center of the decorated table. The colors of the P. T. A. were emphasized, the cake being iced in yellow, the candles placed upon it being blue. At either end of the table stood a crystal candle stick, holding a single blue taper, one for each of the national founders. These were lighted with a beautiful ceremony by the president of the East Side P. T. A., Mrs. H. B. McDowell.

The central candles on the beautiful cake were then lighted one for each of the national founders, one for the national president, one for the state president, one for the district president. Then 26 other candles were lighted, one for each letter of the alphabet each letter telling some phase of P. T. A. work. Twenty-six members of the East Side P. T. A. carried out this part of the impressive program.

The candle lighting ceremony closed with a wish and a prayer for continued and ever increasing success for the organization and its work. Superintendent H. L. Durham blew out the candles with a good wish for the Bryan P. T. A. and every worker in its organization. Then the big beautiful cake was cut and served to all present with delicious fruit punch prepared by the domestic science class, and served by Ethel Ferguson, Mary Martha Black, Ruth Smith, and Lois Brown of the domestic science department of the high school.

The following committees in charge of the birthday celebration deserve special mention: Decorations, Mrs. Coulter Smith, Mrs. Robert Jones, Mrs. McDuff Simpson. Refreshments: Miss Lois Gilstrap, Mrs. E. E. Aldridge, Mrs. Charley Andrews. Telephoning: Mrs. George Dunn, Mrs. Hugh Looney, Mrs. W. S. Higgs. House
